

EVENING BULLETIN.

SATURDAY EVENING, SEPT. 12, 1887.

SHEET IRON RAILROAD CARS.—At the recent Railroad Convention in New York, Mr. Lamothe, the inventor, exhibited the model of a sheet iron car, for which he claimed great superiority over the wooden car in many essential particulars. The chief recommendations claimed for it were lightness, great strength and durability, and safety to life, as in case of collision or smash up there would be an entire absence of splinters, which usually do the greatest share of damage in case of accident to wooden cars. They are one-third lighter than an ordinary frame car, and can be made to weigh less than seven tons. The cost of construction is represented to be nearly the same as other cars. The inside of the cars is lined with cushions for the protection of passengers in case of accident. It was stated that a number of sheet iron cars, of trailer construction than the one on exhibition, had been in use on the Baltimore Railroad for about five years, for freight purposes, and that in one instance one of these cars loaded with 80 barrels of flour was precipitated down a steep embankment without doing it material damage.

The United States inspectors, who grant licenses to steamboat pilots, have issued summonses to all the pilots in St. Louis who signed the contract not to work for less than $500 per month, to appear before them and show cause why their licenses should not be taken from them for entering into an illegal conspiracy. These men refuse to take apprentices to learn the river, and thereby prevent competition. They associate themselves into a close corporation. Now, when steamboat transportation is coming into competition with railway transit, the prosperity of the interest to which they are attached depends upon the economy of its management, and for them to attempt so unreasonable an exaction from those who are struggling to maintain the competition, is as short-sighted as it is unjust. No class of men connected with the river commerce has been so liberally paid as the pilots.

CANAL COAL.—The editor of the Fredericksburg News, writing from Kanawha county, says that canal coal abounds in those mountains, and it must prove an Aladdin's lamp to its owners. It is almost pure carbon, and burns and blazes with a brilliant light. It is broken up in small pieces and put in a large iron retort; heat is applied, and the result is a steady stream of dark olive-colored oil. The coal, after the oil is extracted, makes the coke used to heat the retorts. The oil is purified into a pure white color, and produces wax, which makes excellent candles, while the refuse is used as grease for machinery, &c. Nothing of it is wasted. A bushel of coal makes two gallons of oil. This company turns out nine barrels a day—342 gallons. It costs 16 cents and sells for $1 a gallon in Cincinnati.

THE HOG CHOLERA.—The Henderson Commercial gives an account of the sad havoc made by the hog cholera in the Bend, near Henderson. Scarcely a farmer has escaped destruction among his stock. Many persons have lost every hog, both young and old, and some have but two or three left to tell the devastation that has taken place. The symptoms are not those of the hog cholera, but more nearly resembling the quincy. This disease cannot be attributed to strychnine, as there are no distilleries in the vicinity. A farmer in Perry county publishes a remedy which he says is effectual. He throws the suffering pig upon his back, forces open his mouth, and applies a small quantity of tar to the roots of the animal's tongue. He pronounces it a certain cure.

The Florence correspondent of the Newark Daily Advertiser says that Powers's noble statue of Webster has been transferred to bronze at the foundry in that city, and is about to be shipped for Boston. The casting is quite worthy of the model, admirable for tone and accuracy. It was visited by the members of the Royal family, the Ministers of State, and many of the connoisseurs of the country, who concur in ascribing to it the highest merit.

THE AMERICAN HORSES IN ENGLAND.—The London Sunday Times, of the 23d ult., announces that on the 19th the American horse Priores struck off from her engagement to run for the Herefordshire stakes.

A fire in St. Louis on Thursday morning destroyed the extensive alcohol and vinegar factory of J. W. Sherman. Loss $40,000.

HOGS.—Dealers in Madison have secured, by advances, some 70,000 or 75,000 hogs for the coming season's operations.

FOREIGN ITEMS.—The price of wheat had fallen four francs per hectolitre in Paris. The Empress Eugenie attended a bull-fight at Bayonne, on Sunday the 23d ult. The Opinions, of Turin, gives an account of the reception at Genoa of a piece of ordnance sent by citizens of Genoa to Piedmont, for the walls of Alexandria. The military and civic authorities proceeded in state to the gates of the port, where the gun was formally delivered to them.

M. Lafragua, the Mexican Envoy, had arrived at Cadiz, where he would embark for Mexico. It was rumored that when Gen. Lersundi proceeds to Cuba he will be accompanied by Gen. Ramal Salas, as second in command. The new Governor will sail in September, and take with him the ultimatum of the Spanish Government respecting Mexico.

A terrible conflagration had occurred at the city of Magdeburg, Prussia. The large military store, houses, railroad bridge and terminus, and many private houses were destroyed.

London, Saturday.—The Indian overland mail has arrived, with full details of the late disaster. It appears that the catastrophe at Cawnpore is believed to have occurred on the 24th of June. In consequence of Sir Hugh Wheeler being mortally wounded, the force had accepted the proffer of safety made by Nana Sahib and the mutineers. Nana allowed them to get into the boats, and then a fire was opened upon them from the banks of the river, and all were destroyed.

Other accounts state that the wives and children of the officers and soldiers—consisting of two hundred and fifty persons—were taken into Cawnpore and sold by public auction, and were treated with the highest indignities and barbarously slaughtered by the inhabitants. It is hoped that a few escaped. It is said that Nana Sahib has more than one hundred European prisoners in his hands whom he intends to hold as hostages. They are probably the remains of Gen. Wheeler's force. Gen. Havelock, who left Allahabad with two thousand Europeans, had attacked and totally defeated Nana Sahib and his force.

The proprietor of a forge, not remarkable for correctness of language, but who, by honest industry, had realized a comfortable independence, being called upon at a social meeting for a toast, gave—"success to forgery!"

It is aggravating to see a good looking man wrestling with your wife in wait without having the privilege of going up and tightening his cravat.

The New York Courier, of Thursday, says:

We learn that there are large orders in this city from England for breadstuffs at limited prices. These prices, owing to the unfortunate stringency in money affairs, have been reached and even a shade lower. The prospect is that there will be a more active export of flour and grain than was anticipated, and thus furnish a substitute for the current shipments of gold.

We are obliged to add to the list of suspensions Messrs. Foster & Nickerson, long and favorably known to the shipping merchants of New York, and having a very extensive eastern connection.

CONFLAGRATIONS FROM THE SOLAR RAYS.—A Hamburg letter of the 15th says: "The extremely hot weather we have experienced during the last few days has done much for the harvest in the surrounding districts, and, excepting some cases of sudden illness, has been productive of great benefit to all classes of the community. A striking proof of the power of the sun's rays was observed on Thursday forenoon at the laboratory of the Civic Artillery Ammunition Store, in which the pyrotechnic artisans carry on their labor. While M. Bergerholst and his two sons were employed in their vocation, and using every possible precaution to shield their operations, the rays of the sun fell on a round piece of glass through the small window exposed to its effects and set fire to some paper close at hand and burnt a hole through the boards on the upper floor of the building, through which it reached some ammunition below, which immediately exploded. Fortunately the stock of ammunition was not large, a portion having been previously removed to the powder magazine close by, and the prompt application of water stopped the progress of the burning embers. The pyrotechnist and his two sons had just time to escape, and the only personal injury sustained was by one of the workmen, who was slightly burnt. The alarm, however, was for some time considerable for the safety of the adjoining powder store. Accounts have been received that at the town of Bojanovo, in the province of Posen, in the district of Kroben, situated between Nawietz and Lissa, and through which the Breslau and Posen railway runs, a very large fire happened in a similar way on the 13th inst., on which occasion 350 out of 420 houses were burnt down, thereby causing 2,000 persons to be entirely houseless.

THE IRISHMAN'S DEFINITION OF THE WORD MYSTERY.—"I say, Murphy! what's the meaning of mystery? Faith, I was rading the paper, and it said 'twas a mystery how it was done!'"
"Well," said Murphy, "Pat, I'll tache ye. Ye see, when I lived with me father, a little goosoon, they giv a parthy, and me mother went to market to buy somethin' for the parthy to ate, and among a lot of things she bot a half a barrel of pork, ye see. Well, she put it down in the cellar, blesher sow, for safe keeping, till the parthy come on, and then, well, when the parthy come on, me mother sint me down in the cellar to get some of the pork, do ye see; well, I went down to the barrel and opened it, and fished about, but divil a bit of pork could I find; so I looked around about the barrel to see where the pork was, and found a rat hole in the bottom of the barrel, where the pork had all run out and left the brine standing, do ye see."

"Hould on, Murphy! hould on! wait a bit; now tell me how could all the pork git out or the barrel and leave the brine standing?"
"Well, Pat," said Murphy, "that's what I'd like to know myself, do ye see; there's the mystery."

MASSACRE NEAR JERUSALEM.—A letter received in London from Jerusalem, of the 1st ultimo, announces that disturbances had taken place in the neighborhood of that city, attended with serious loss of life. It appears that the turbulent factions in that country had taken advantage of the prolonged absence of Surrya Pacha, the Turkish Governor, who was at Djennin, the northern boundary of the province, and a sanguinary collision had taken place at the very gates of Jerusalem. Twenty-two men and two women were killed. The peasants fought with great desperation, armed with swords, contrary to their usual custom.

The mountaineers in the suburbs of Jerusalem had become greatly excited, and the inhabitants of the adjacent villages were preparing to take part in the quarrel. It was feared that, in a few days, the conflagration would become general. Among the most influential chiefs, was raising men among the Djeddours, and was capable of giving the Turkish authorities much trouble. There is a battalion of 600 Basha-Bazouks at Jerusalem.

The Transit Route.—A new phase is said to have arisen in the affairs of the Nicaragua Transit Company, which looks more like a reality than anything yet talked of. The report is, that a company has been or is being organized under the old Canal Grant from Nicaragua, the principal movers in which have been Messrs. Joseph L. White and Charles K. Garrison. It is said our government fully supports the organization, and that the opinion of eminent counsel in this city is decidedly in favor of the validity of the old grant, as it has never been repealed by the Nicaraguan government. The parties to this new concern are said to be Messrs. C. K. Garrison, Joseph L. White, H. G. Stebbins, John P. Yelverton, Richard Varick, and, perhaps, Com. Vanderbilt. What the Webster party will say, is yet to be heard, but many incline to the belief that there will be an amalgamation of all the interests concerned. For the present the "Canal Co." have the inside of the track.

Speculating Spirits.—The Buffalo Republic gravely accuses the public that banks, brokers, and speculators, in that city, are in the habit of visiting mediums, and table-turning and spirit rapping circles, and instead of attending to their legitimate calling, have been consulting spirits and consorting with hairy-faced men and strong-minded women. We have heard it says, instances where spirits have been consulted prior to engaging in large speculative operations, which since have proved disastrous. Loans to large amounts have been made by banks and brokers at the suggestion and on the recommendation of spirits. Railroad stocks have been purchased and produce in large quantities bought on the advice of table-tipping mediums.

[From the Journal of Commerce.]
FRESH MILK.—A NEW DISCOVERY.—The name of Gail Borden, Jr., has become historical. Notwithstanding the youthful suffix to his patronymic, Mr. Borden has been before the public for many years, and always in the same character. Like other great inventors, he has not always realized pecuniary success, but his methods of preserving human food have never failed when faithfully adopted, and he has long been regarded as a public benefactor. Three or four years ago, Mr. Borden showed us a sample of condensed milk which he had been preparing, to be used in long voyages, and he was then sanguine of perfecting his discovery, so as to supply families in the city with country milk, brought from any distance, without a largely increased cost. We had missed him from the city for some time; but it seems he has not been idle, and we have the pleasure of chronicling his return, as enthusiastic as ever, and completely successful in his experiments.

Mr. Borden's process is exceedingly simple and ought to be universally popular, for it is exactly the reverse of the system adopted by the milkmen, of which there is so much reasonable complaint. The chemists divide 1,000 parts of pure milk into 840 of water, 40 of butter, 45 of sugar of milk, 40 of casein, &c., to which the milkmen add from the town pump from 300 to 600 equal parts more of water, using in the weakest dilution a little salt, and sometimes a trifle of chalk, the former for taste and the latter for color. Mr. Borden simply evaporates 750 parts of the milk, leaving all the water, and properties of the milk still remaining. This is done in a vacuum, over a very slight heat, leaving as the residue a thick paste, which can at any time be reconverted into milk by restoring the water.

The advantages are obvious. The cream will not rise to the surface in the absence of the water, so that when the latter is restored the milk is essentially as new and fresh as when first taken from the cow. As the bulk after condensation is only about one-fifth of the original fluid, the expense of transportation is greatly lessened, while all disturbance of the elements of the milk is avoided. Hermetically sealed, it can be carried any distance, sea or land, and will keep perfectly sweet. In open cans or bottles it will keep through cool weather without souring, and without any danger of separating the cream. In warm weather it will remain sweet much longer than ordinary milk, and upon ice may be kept for several weeks. One teaspoonful of the condensed article to four of pure water will make rich country milk, precisely as it comes from the cow; one to five will make a richer compound than is ever, unless in rare cases, brought to the city; while one to seven will make "a fair article," such as is usually sold for the best Orange county.

Mr. Borden has established a condenser (capable of reducing 5,000 quarts per day) in Litchfield, Conn., one of the richest grazing districts in Connecticut, where the unadulterated article can be bought for two cents a quart. The heat is applied under a covered kettle, from which the air is exhausted and the water thus evaporated. The remainder is then brought to market. The reader will perceive this is not manufactured milk, there being nothing added to it and nothing taken from it except the water. It will be sold in the city at 32 cents a quart. The water, which the milk is restored by the addition of four times its bulk of water, to say sixpence a quart. Any one who wishes to use a cheaper article has only to add another quart of water; it will then be richer than most if not all the milk distributed from carts about the city. Of course the addition of only two or three parts of water leaves it a rich cream, and the purchaser can vary the quality at his pleasure.

Very few persons are aware of the extent and importance of the milk trade in this city. The statistics compiled for official use, a year or two ago, showed that the annual cost to consumers here was about $3,500,000, and it must now exceed four millions. The difficulty connected with the trade grows out of the rapid decomposition of the milk in its natural state, and its great bulk compared with its first cost. Both these are overcome in Borden's process, as the water may be evaporated at the dairy and added again when it is wanted for use. The expense of the milk is preserved from the damage it suffers, in its natural state, from long-continued agitation. The samples we have seen are unexceptionable, both in quality and taste; and we regard the experiment as entirely successful.

MATIMONY.—In the selection of a husband, a young lady should look for truth, propriety, and decorum rather than for station, wealth, or good looks. Courtship allows her all the opportunities necessary for this study of man's character; so, however delightful that probationary period may be to the imagination and susceptibilities, it is filled with serious responsibility. There is an interest attaching to it that should impart thoughtfulness, benignity, and refinement to the whole being of man and woman. As the threshold of a new life it should be guarded against all sinister influences—all insidious tendencies, all weakness, and all liability to fall into temptation. Courtship should be too pure, or, if it is too strictly watched, it is the sweet communion and inter-blending of two souls, previous to their sacred marriage and unity in this life and the life beyond. Its very trivialities ought to be fenced around with respect; and no indecorous jesting, no weak levity, no dark suspicions, no want of faith should be allowed to cast their grim shadows on its path—all should be bright, hopeful, and pure as the flush on the virgin cheek after the rosy lips have received the first kiss of kind and respectful love. Marriage, too, should be emblematic of the union of mind to mind and heart to heart. It is well to build matrimonial happiness on a physical sympathy—better still of heart extending to heart; but the mental adaptation and a similarity of views, relative to the great principles of action, and of the relations to society, should also be taken into consideration, for the bodily attractions must fade, and the ardor of affection may cool, or be diverted into another channel, therefore, the mind's purposes must be elevated and stable, and its energies will be found to diminish but slowly with increasing years. A marriage founded upon this mutual understanding has little chance of being wretched; both parties ever finding the self-same mental beauty they once adored, and constantly deriving from each other the benefit of mutual interchange of thought, sympathy, and endeavors.

ELOPEMENT.—A young sprig from Kentucky, who has been in this vicinity for several months, became acquainted with the daughter of one of our citizens living a few miles east of town. A mutual attachment soon sprang up between the parties, which resulted in a proposition of marriage. The parents assumed the responsibility to reject the suit, and the disappointed lover was notified to discontinue his visits. A secret interview was obtained, and the young parties made their escape. Accordingly, on Sunday night the damsel had succeeded in getting from under the paternal roof, and had scarcely reached the arms of her lover, a short distance from the house, until a discovery of the flight was made. An alarm was immediately raised, and all hands, women and dogs, were in hot pursuit. The fugitives sought refuge in a cornfield, where they accidentally became separated, but the cohesive power of attraction soon brought them together again, but not without losing "time" in the race. The pursuers were now so close upon them that they were compelled to drop their luggage, which consisted of two carpet-bags containing the outfit of a two weeks' cruise. They managed to elude their pursuers, however, and have doubtless before this become the victims of matrimony.

Rumored Elopement.—For several days there has been a rumor circulating in legal and hotel circles as to an elopement from this city. The story runs that a member of the bar, who some years since went from Massachusetts to Kentucky, where he married, and who some years ago came to Chicago to reside, lately gave out that important business would require him to make a visit to Europe. Preparatory to his departure he took his wife back to Kentucky and left her with her parents till his return. He then came to Chicago, on route for Europe, and shortly after left this city. In the mean time a married lady who had been boarding at the same house with the lawyer differed with and separated from her husband, and took board elsewhere. She, it is said, left Chicago three days after the lawyer, but managed to overtake him at Buffalo; at that place the two parties passed as husband and wife, and as such proceeded to New York. We do not know any more than this of the affair, and what we have stated is the story related by those who know both parties.

Dr. King's Dispensary.
DR. A. KING, a practitioner of New York for the last thirty years, has opened a Dispensary on Market, between First and Second, nearly opposite the Graham House, Louisville, for the treatment of Private Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Syphilis, and all diseases of the skin and other derangements growing out of neglect or imperfect cure. His long experience and success enable him to act with confidence. All those who may confide their cases to him may rest assured of having the disease effectually cured, and every vestige of the difficulties perfectly eradicated from their constitutions.

STRUCTURES of old or recent date effectually cured in a few days by an operation which causes no pain. Where a stricture exists, general derangement of the whole constitution must ensue, a continuance of which will bring on a train of symptoms to be dreaded, and will undermine the constitution and cause premature old age.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.—Particular attention will be given to this disease and all the consequences growing out of it, brought on, in many cases, by the destructive habits of indiscrete youth and excessive indulgence of the passions, which undermine the constitution, rendering the subject unfit for either business or society, and causing premature old age.

Persons abroad, by writing and stating their cases, with a fee enclosed (post paid), can have the medicine sent to their address, with necessary directions for using the same.

The strictest secrecy observed in all cases. a11 bty

WHAT IT IS DOING FOR THE SICK.—The editor of the Kittanning Free Press says: "After one of the best physicians in this place had failed, Bernhave's Holland Bitters cured me of the worst form of dyspepsia."
Francis Felix, only manufacturer of the original "Extract of Coffee," says: "I know that your Holland Bitters is one of the best medicines in the world for disorders of the stomach or liver."
Dr. Ludwig, Editor of the Fackel, Baltimore, pronounces it a medicine deserving the confidence of the public.

Dr. Ehrhart, the leading German Physician of Pennsylvania, has prescribed it frequently during the last three years, with marked success, in debilitated states of the digestive organs, or of the system generally.

The manager of Ballou's Vinegar Factory says: "I used it myself, and was therefore induced to try its effects upon my wife (troubled with the debility common to all of a consumptive habit), and really it is doing her more good than anything she has ever taken."

GREAT BARGAINS IN TRUNKS AT

J. H. McCleary's

NATIONAL TRUNK EMPORIUM,

Corner Main and Fourth sts., Louisville, Ky.

I would respectfully invite the attention of merchants and others visiting the city to my large and elegant assortment of TRUNKS, which I am prepared to offer at least twenty-five per cent. lower than any other establishment in the city. My stock embraces a greater variety of Trunks than is kept by any other house in the Western country. Many of the styles are entirely new and cannot fail to please those who want a Trunk both as regards price and quality. The many advantages which I possess over other houses in the city are as follows: I have my own boxes, finishing my own leather, importing my own material, &c., enable me to offer my trunks at much lower prices than any other establishment either in this city or Cincinnati. Merchants and others will be consulting their own interests by giving me a call before making their purchases. Orders promptly attended to. (may 25 d&w) J. H. McCleary.

WE are requested to say that there will be a meeting of the Board of Directors of the South-western Agricultural Society, at the Merchants' Exchange, on Monday morning next, at 10 o'clock.
All members of the Board are particularly solicited
to attend.
POLICE PROCEEDINGS.—Saturday, September 12.
Only one d. d. could be discovered yesterday by the police and that was Peter Daily, who was sent to the workhouse for three months, having been drunk and disorderly on Jefferson street.
Charles Trout, Lazarus Schaub, and Bettinger, charged with assaulting C. Meyer on the "Point" several nights ago, were examined. The testimony was not sufficient to convict them, but they were each held to keep the peace for three months.
The court room has been thronged all morning with more than a score of painted, brazen, be-flooned, and be-hooped courtzeans, awaiting trials on indictments for keeping disorderly houses.
CLOSING OF THE MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.—The Board of Directors of the Mechanics' Institute have resolved to close their annual exhibition on Tuesday night, September 15. Upon that occasion the premiums will be announced by the secretary and the valedictory address delivered by Charles D. Kirk.
Monday night has been set apart for the exclusive visit of the colored population. They will all be heartily welcome, and will find their attendance upon the exhibition not only pleasant but profitable.

A fire broke out about 12 o'clock to-day in the stable of Mr. J. T. Hyatt, on Second street, near Market. The stable was an old frame, and before water could be procured the fire had made considerable headway, communicating to Dr. Cummings's office on one side and a frame building on the other.
The loss is not much, as but little else than the buildings was burned. We could not learn how the fire originated.

The steamer Allegheny has been purchased by Capt. G. W. Cable for $17,000.

MESSRS. EDITORS: In a communication signed
"Justice," in the Democrat of yesterday morning,
I am charged with being prompted, from venting
a single surplus spleen in publishing that the funds of the Merchants' Insurance Company, of Philadelphia, in the hands of Messrs. James E. Tyler & Co., had been attached; when, had it been my desire forewarn the public of danger from insolvent insurance companies, I would at the same time have published the fact that the funds of the Farmers' and Mechanics' Insurance Co., of Philadelphia, had been attached.

My answer is, that I deemed it unnecessary to repeat what had been made so notorious throughout the city, and feel no fear of injury from that circumstance, as I promptly deposited acceptable bills of exchange for the whole amount claimed in the Louisville Savings Institution, subject to the decision of the pending suit, and had a large surplus funds left on hand; and, like Messrs. Jas. E. Tyler & Co., the policy on which this suit was brought, was not issued at this agency.

"Justice," alias James E. Tyler & Co., members of the Board of Underwriters, further states that the Farmers' and Mechanics' Insurance Company is not recognized by the Board of Underwriters as the most reliable in the world. I can inform him the reason that the Company is not favorably entertained by the Board of Underwriters is refusing to comply with a request embodied in a resolution of the Board, some time since, directing their secretary to address a letter to the secretary of the Farmers' and Mechanics' Insurance Company, desiring the company, through me, should join their association.

The rates of premium charged by the Farmers' & Mechanics' Insurance Company are less than those established by the board of underwriters, and a refusal to advance to their rates has brought this company under their displeasure. I have the utmost confidence in the responsibility of the companies I represent, and the losses at this agency have been promptly and satisfactorily adjusted and paid by me, as those of other companies.

P. S. Messrs. Jas. E. Tyler & Co. do not deny that the funds in their hands belonging to the Merchants' Insurance Company of Philadelphia have been attached, but charge the publication of the fact to malice, which I disclaim.

The Merchants' Insurance Company of Philadelphia (J. E. Tyler & Co., of this city, agents), has been attached by J. P. Allen & Co., of Shelbyville, sustained on their rope factory.

TRIBUTE TO THE MEMORY OF GWYN PAGE, Esq.

At a meeting of the members of the Bar and officers of the Courts of the city of Louisville, held on Friday, Sept. 11th, 1857, Hon. Henry Pirtle rose and made the following resolutions:

GENTLEMEN:—The purpose for which we have assembled this morning is one that has reached us all, and we have come here to show our respect for the memory of one with whom we have had in pleasant intercourse in this forum. We admired him for his learning, for his high bearing, for his talents, for his faithfulness and zeal—in short, we looked upon him as the elevated lawyer, the honest man, an exemplar in our noble profession. Yesterday, painful news announced to us the death of Gwyn Page. He died in Virginia a few days ago.

That we may all give to our grief at the death of a man who gave to our city a noble citizen, and that the news of his death is received with the same sorrow.

Resolved: That in the death of Gwyn Page the legal profession has lost a member who adorned it; combining the qualities of zeal, assiduity, and capability in behalf of his client, with justice and courtesy to his opponent.

Resolved: That this dispensation of Divine Providence has bereaved us of a cherished friend and brother lawyer, with whom in times past we maintained relations of friendship and intimacy, and that his death is an unusual calamity—that society has lost an example of social elegance and urbanity, the country a useful citizen, and the world a good man.

Resolved: That we tender our sincere sympathies to his bereaved relatives.

Resolved: That copies of the proceedings of this meeting be presented to the various Courts of this city, with the request that they be placed upon the records of said Courts; and the several papers of the city be requested to publish the same.

On motion, the meeting then adjourned.

MASONIC.—A half-past two this afternoon, the Free Masons of this city went in procession, from Masonic Hall, on Exchange street, to St. James Hall, where very interesting ceremonies are being performed as we go to press. The occasion is in honor of the session here of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templars of the State of New York. Present at this encampment are some of the most distinguished of the brotherhood of Masonry, of all ranks in the numerous organizations of that Order. A Grand Patriarch's Cross of Gold, richly ornamented and set with diamonds, is to be presented to the Hon. Wm. Blackstone Hubbard, Grand Master of the Encampment of Knights Templars of the United States. This gentleman is from Ohio, and is endeared to Masons everywhere by his gentle and manly character, and his long and steadfast attachment to the institution. Sir Knight John Simons, of New York, is to be presented with a costly gold jewel of office.

The presentation addresses are to be made by Sir Knight Robert Morris, of Kentucky, assisted by Hon. John L. Lewis, of this State, Hon. Benjamin B. French, of Washington, D. C., and others, with the usual ceremonies of the Order. The society of Knights Templars numbers 137 bodies, with an aggregate of 5,000 members, who are represented at this encampment by many of their brightest luminaries.—Buffalo Commercial.
